

Press release from AVISA UK

July, 2010

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Joint initiative enables AVISA to deliver unsurpassed online training to customers

AVISA, the global aviation and airworthiness specialist, has joined forces with Gael Ltd, market leaders in compliance management software, forging a partnership that is set to revolutionise aviation staff training.

The joint venture agreement between both air safety service specialists will enable AVISA to deliver cost-effective online training through Gael's exciting e-learning Gael Academy programme.

AVISA is already one of the world leaders in helping aircraft operators meet and comply with international airworthiness regulations.

With bases in the UK, Middle East, Asia, Scandinavia and Eastern Europe, AVISA ensures operators and owners remain compliant with all safety and airworthiness regulations. The company's aviation experts provide innovative, safety enhancing, cost effective and improved visible systems for managing aircraft and their required maintenance.

Ian Chapman, AVISA UK Operations Manager, said: "This partnership supports aviation in a way that, until now, has been unavailable. The combination of our strengths will enable us to offer cost effective aviation training by applying new web-based methods.

"Gael Academy provides a long awaited and professional online e-learning tool that – combined with our regulatory and consultancy experience and training knowledge – will transform the way consultancy and training support will be delivered to all sectors of our business.

"Gael Academy offers the industry instant and around-the-clock access to learning tools and resources with which regulators and aviation organisations can co-ordinate training easily online.

Gael, the developers of Q-Pulse and Gael Academy, provides software solutions to facilitate both personal and organisational improvement, enabling organisations to gain value through demonstrating compliance.

Gael Academy, an online learning suite, enables organisations across all industry sectors to implement a flexible and scalable framework for training staff, with instant access to training videos, quality management courses and live tutorials delivered by Gael experts.

Working with clients in the aviation sector such as AVISA, Gael aims to transform necessary compliance activities from a costly overhead into a business benefit with commercial advantages.

Ashley Marron, Gael Ltd's Chief Operating Officer, said: "AVISA offers the widest range of Aviation Safety Training courses available, and Gael Academy seemed a natural complement in directly deploying such training to staff, as well as serving to drive the adoption of Quality and Safety Management Systems throughout the organisation.

"In extending the management of Safety to all levels and all areas, the Academy enables more effective management of both safety and quality. This new partnership will allow aviation organisations to adopt a more co-ordinated approach to developing and maintaining a safety culture."

For further information, please contact:

Fraser Thomson, FTFR, Malvern House, New Road, Solihull, West Midlands, B91 3DL, UK.

Tel: Office +44 (0)121 713 2276
Mobile +44 (0) 7810 864715
Fax +44 (0) 121 713 2282

Notes to editors

About AVISA

Committed to providing the highest level of aviation services to this rapidly growing marketplace, AVISA delivers total technical support through:

- Continued Airworthiness and Maintenance Management (CAMO)
- AVISA's CAMO services enable commercial and corporate clients to achieve better despatch reliability, increased cost savings and improved safety levels.
- Continued Airworthiness and Quality Safety Consultancy
- EASA approved, with good local knowledge, AVISA is able to provide businesses with support and advice across a global range of regulatory issues and requirements.
- Aviation Safety Training: Tailored to the needs of each individual business, AVISA's courses aim to bring all staff to a common level of understanding for a positive impact on the whole business. AVISA's training delivers reduced costs, increased profitability and competitive edge.
- This year AVISA was announced as a Ministry of Defence Approved Learning Provider under the Enhanced Learning Credits ("ELC") scheme and is now authorised to supply two CAA International ("CAAi") training courses to ELC funded learners. In order to achieve this status, AVISA had to undergo a rigorous application process of several months, assessing their operations and training facilities and finding them to be of a sufficient standard to satisfy the high expectations of the MoD.
- For more information, visit www.avisaltd.com